

The Datchet Directory

The directory is no longer available from the Datchet Website.

It originated as hard copy around the village and we were simply asked to put it up on the website about five or six years ago to replicate the hard copy, however as it is now very out of date, we feel it is no longer fit for purpose, and tends to supply more misinformation than useful contacts.

We would recommend using The Pages of Datchet.com, or an Internet search engine to find a contact in Datchet.

We volunteers that maintain this site apologise for any inconvenience this may cause you.
